Keziah Thomas

With her stunning gold decorated harp...

Keziah Thomas can add something special to your wedding or function. She currently performs at over 100 events each year at venues all over the country.

From an intimate dinner party for a few guests to a marquee filled with family and friends, the harp is an elegant and memorable addition to your event.

Keziah Thomas has been invited to play for a diverse range of functions. These include: the opening of the recent 'Tiara Exhibition' at the V & A Museum, the 2004 'Excellence in England' Awards at Kensington Palace, HRH The Prince of Wales's 50th birthday celebrations at Buckingham Palace and, the most angelic, on the eve of 2003 at Sir Terence Conran's 'Mezzo' restaurant, complete with gold wings and a halo.

The beautiful sound of the harp enhances all occasions and is a popular choice for weddings. During the ceremony, Keziah can provide music for the the entrance of the bride, the signing of the register and the exit of the bridal party.

Traditional 'Wedding Marches' sound perfect on the harp or you could choose something entirely different. Visit the repertoire page for some ideas.

Harp music is also a stylish accompaniment for drinks receptions and banqueting.

The choice of music depends on your taste and the mood you want to create; popular classical pieces, Celtic music or romantic songs.

Keziah is always happy to perform requests and chat about her unusual instrument with guests.

"I would recommend Keziah to anyone thinking of having any live music at their wedding"

Lisa Brant

" You not only played beautifully, you added that extra something to our wedding"

Dawn Thornton

" You were brilliant and made such a lovely touch to our special day, we would recommend you to anyone"

Melanie and David
