Face Painter : Body Art

Lorna Strachan, based in West Lothian, owns one of Scotland's premier Face Painting and Body Painting companies.

In recent years, Face and Body Art has developed, internationally, from simplistic designs for children's parties or "team colours" for football and rugby matches, to a fine art requiring a high level of skill and dedication.

Lorna is at the forefront of this development and have been called upon to demonstrate and share their expertise at several of the largest face painting conventions.

Lorna has trained many successful artists and is, herself, recognised as one of the leading artists in the UK.

She has demonstrated along side world renowned painters and has herself rapidly become recognised internationally. Her company are members of F.A.C.E., The International Face Painting Association, and can be relied upon to provide a reliable service to the most exacting standards. Fully insured, Cool Faces pay particularly close attention to every aspect of their work, from personal presentation, equipment and materials, to the all important aspects of hygiene.

They have provided Face Painting services at some of Scotland's most prestigious sporting events, store openings, product launches and night clubs. From single painters to teams of ten or more.

High impact Body Painting services have been provided for the rich, the famous, and for some of the biggest companies in the country. Even the latest craze of pre natal art has been accommodated.

Despite the ever expanding nature of her work, and the awards won, Lorna still loves to see the look on a child's face upon seeing their "new" face in the mirror, The impromptu hugs and the many thank you pictures that children have drawn for her, on whatever they have been able to lay their hands on, (usually paper napkins or tissues), remain her greatest reward.

Ultra Violet, "Black Light" or "UV" effects have long entertained audiences, both young and old. The examples above only touch on the many possibilities. Cool Faces have been called upon to produce "UV" Face Painting and Body Painting for several stage shows, night clubs, specialist workshops, and even children's discos. There are very few painters with the necessary expertise required to produce results which are effective in any combination of light. The "UV" paints and glitters used to produce these effects are considerably more expensive than standard products but the stunning, high impact, results speak for themselves.
