Fortune Telling

Now resident in North East Scotland, award-winning writer, artist and performer, Louise was born in Shrewsbury, England. She toured extensively with Traditional Circus, and has appeared in theatre and cabaret in London and the provinces. She was Education officer for two circuses, including the Russian, and is available for talks and workshops in schools throughout the UK. Her work as a face- and body-painter has also won international recognition.

Body Art This shirt was completed in 5 hours, for HM Frigate Unicorn, now permanently berthed at City Quay, Dundee, and helped raise funds for a Dundee-based children's cancer charity.

Louise is a fully accredited and insured face and body artist, and a member of FACE. All the paints used are approved by the FDA and EU for use on the face and body, are cruelty free hypoallergenic and wash off easily with soap and water. Travelling all over the UK, she has probably appeared at an event near you.

'MAKIN' FACES!' was begun in 1991 with a collaboration of talents between Louise and Louise Hampson for an event at an Oxfordshire stately home. They quickly found themselves in demand for parties and themed events, and 'Makin' Faces!' has gone from strength to strength ever since, attending store openings, corporate functions, product launches and promotions.

'Makin' Faces!' has also helped to raise funds and awareness for a number of children's charities. In fact, whatever the event, large or small, whether you need a team of painters or just one, Louise can tailor a package to suit you.
