Whatever the reason for staging an event, the whole thing should run like clockwork.

Your choice of service providers is therefore very important, including your choice of entertainment.

This forms such a large part of the overall event itself that you have to be completely confident the live entertainment you choose will deliver the performance your event deserves; be polite, punctual, flexible and professional and, most importantly, keep your guests fully entertained for the whole evening, leaving you to devote your attention to your guests, safe in the knowledge that they are all having a fantastic time.

Superfonic is a fantastic live band, delivering up to one and a half hours of the funkiest hits from the 60's to the current day in a spectacular live stage show. Members of Superfonic have performed with and alongside some of the UK's top chart acts such as: Artful Dodger, Faithless, Ian Drury, Atomic Kitten, North & South, Shed 7, The Kinks and Roachford, as well as numerous television and radio appearances, national theatre tours and international pop tours.

With this unrivalled level of musicianship you can be completely confident that when you book Superfonic, you're in for an unforgettable experience.
